

Sacramento by Train

May 21 – 25, 2012

"All aboard!" Our Amtrak train journey begins in Los Angeles, Union Station. Travelers can join us on the train in Ventura, Simi Valley and Santa Barbara... in fact, anywhere that the train makes a stop between Los Angeles and Sacramento.

We'll have a full day on the train to enjoy the beautiful passing scenery and enjoy some delicious meals in the dining car! The scenery along the Coast Starlight route is unparalleled: dense forests, fertile valleys and long stretches of Pacific Ocean shoreline provide a gorgeous backdrop for our journey.

While in Sacramento, we can enjoy the many sites and activities the city has to offer.

- We can learn about the California Gold Rush and experience panning for gold at the Sacramento History Museum.
- Are you a train buff? We'll be sure to visit the California State Railroad Museum, a huge museum with 21 restored locomotives and lots of fun historical and train exhibits; we can even go for a ride on a historic train.
- We can check out our governor's home with a stop at the State Capitol.
- And we'll also stroll through Old Town Sacramento and experience the feel of the wild west and gold mining days.

No matter what, there will be lots to do, see, hear, and experience on this fun-filled New Directions tour!
